

2022 IRB Barcelona Alumni Excellence Award Terms and conditions

1- Introduction

The IRB Barcelona Alumni Excellence Awards are aimed to recognise and celebrate outstanding achievements and contributions to science and the scientific community made by young researchers (former PhD students and Postdoctoral fellows) who completed a significant part of their training and careers at IRB Barcelona and who are now alumni.

Additionally, these awards are intended to showcase the impact and value of IRB Barcelona training.

The IRB Barcelona Alumni Excellence Awards were launched in 2016, upon the 10th Anniversary of the Institute. Since then, award calls have been launched yearly, each of them addressed to alumni who left IRB Barcelona within specific years, as follows:

- 1st edition: 2016 IRB Barcelona Alumni Excellence Award, addressed to alumni who left the Institute between 2008 and 2013.
- 2nd edition: 2017 IRB Barcelona Alumni Excellence Award, addressed to alumni who left the Institute between 2009 and 2014.
- 3rd edition: 2018 IRB Barcelona Alumni Excellence Award, addressed to alumni who left the Institute between 2010 and 2015.
- 4th edition: 2019 IRB Barcelona Alumni Excellence Award, addressed to alumni who left the Institute between 2011 and 2016.
- 5th edition: 2020 IRB Barcelona Alumni Excellence Award, addressed to alumni who left the Institute between 2012 and 2017.

- 6th edition: 2021 IRB Barcelona Alumni Excellence Award, addressed to alumni who left the Institute between 2013 and 2018.

Thus, this 7th edition is addressed to IRB Barcelona PhD students and Postdoctoral fellows who left the Institute between 2014 and 2019.

2- Eligibility and Nomination of Candidates

Candidates for the 2022 IRB Barcelona Alumni Excellence Award will be considered eligible if they fulfill the following conditions:

- 1) being a former IRB Barcelona PhD student who completed their PhD at IRB Barcelona, or former Postdoctoral Fellows who spent at least 2 years at IRB Barcelona.
- 2) having left IRB Barcelona between 1 January 2014 and 31 December 2019.
- 3) being registered members of the IRB Barcelona Alumni Network.

Eligible alumni can participate in the award through:

- 1) a nomination by IRB Barcelona staff (all positions), or
- 2) a nomination by IRB Barcelona registered alumni, or
- 3) a self-nomination.

3- Application procedure

Both nominations and self-nominations must be sent via email to the IRB Barcelona Alumni Office at irbalumni@irbbarcelona.org, no later than 14 April 2022 (the deadline might be extended if there are not enough eligible candidates -minimum two- in this date).

The message should contain the subject "IRB Barcelona Alumni Award Nomination", and the body text should indicate the name of the nominating person, the name of the nominee, and his/her contact email. In the case of self-nominations, a brief text should be provided explaining that the message is a self-nomination.

Nominations will be checked and eligible candidates will be contacted by the IRB Barcelona Alumni Office and requested to complete an application form, which will request the following information through an online application:

4- Jury panel

The award recipient will be selected from all eligible candidacies by a jury panel formed by five senior IRB Barcelona scientists and fulfilling the following conditions:

- Three Group Leaders (one from each IRB Barcelona Research Programme), and two researchers from the IRB Barcelona PhD Advisory Committee.
- One of the five jury members will be appointed chair and will act as a representative of the jury panel in the award ceremony.
- The members of the jury panel must not be related to eligible candidates: former thesis tutors, group leaders and direct supervisors of candidates will not be allowed to serve on the panel.

5- Selection process

Once the jury panel has been formed, its members will be provided with the applications from eligible candidates, including their referees lists, in case they want to contact them for more references. Each panel member will send the IRB Barcelona Alumni Office (irbalumni@irbbarcelona.org) a ranked list of three candidates, in order of preference, together with the reasoning behind the decision.

The candidate who receives the highest ranking by all 5 jury members will be granted the award.

In case of a tie or disagreement, the chair will meet the rest of the jury members (either virtually or in person) to reach an agreement on the awardee.

The selected winner will be contacted by the IRB Barcelona Alumni Office and will be invited to an award presentation in 2022. The ceremony will also include a Plenary Lecture by the awardee.

6- Prize

The award consists of a commemorative certificate, a prize of 2,000 euros (gross), and an expenses-paid trip to IRB Barcelona to present a Plenary Lecture (within the Barcelona Biomed Seminar series).

In addition, the award recipient will be featured in IRB Barcelona publications and social media channels.

The IRB Barcelona Alumni Excellence Award is given with the support of Eppendorf.
